Dancing Academics.

A. DODWORTH'S DANCING ACADEMIES,
No. 305 BROADWAY, NEW-YORK,
No. 137 MONTAGUE PLACE, BROOKLYN.
Clarses will commone First Week in October, or lumediately after Mr. Dodworth's return from Europe.
Mr. DODWORTH would take occasion to say that he has long felt the necessity of introducing a system of instruction for the use of the younger pupils by which the exercise of Dancing would be of more benefit physically, and more useful in the development of graceful movement, then it has been of late years. The facility with which the Folks and similar dances of the present time are acquired has induced many to neglect has cone of the causes, may be attributed the appearance of so many round-shouldered young miases in the present generation. They are sent to school, and allowed to scop over their desks without intermediate exercise, until the growing frame assumes the position in which it has so long been restrained; they are then sent to a teacher of dancing, with the expectation that by learning the Polks. Schottlich and a few other dances all this would be remedied, and they would at once become reacciful women. Sorely these things should be better understood. Were children sent to dancing early in life, at intervals during their pecessary studies, and the teacher allowed to excellenthem in such a manner and in such dances, in addition to the fashionable once and the such as a such dances, in addition to the fashionable once in the such as a such dances of the flavor, walk and every movement, then something would be gased outsitent with the true object of this valuable accomplishment. Acknosis to restore the art to its former usefulness, Mr. Dodworth instructed his to give more attention to Dancing as connected with Caleiran size of the subside accomplishment for the best methods of accomplishing these desirable results. He hope, therefore, to gain such information as will, in addition to his own experience enable him to present to his pupils a system that will not only make them dance the Polks, but will improve thei
